

Reading list and curriculum for BIO301 Current topics in biodiversity, ecology and evolution

BIO301 will consist of 3-4 modules each covering a particular issue or theme in ecological and evolutionary research. The curriculum is based on research articles from the core literature. These are partly selected by the teachers and partly by the students themselves.