All reading material appears on the computer screen or is downloaded from the distance learning program to your desktop as you make progress in the course.